

Strutt & Parker and eftec Land Management advice

Natural Capital Accounting

Strutt & Parker and eftec have been producing Natural Capital Accounts since 2019, providing quantifiable information about a businesses' impact on nature to aid short- and long-term decision making for farmers, landowners and businesses.

Two types of accounts are available

- Baseline Account: Quantifies, in monetary terms, what the costs and benefits are from current land use.
- Future Accounts: Quantifies, in monetary terms, how the costs and benefits would differ if changes in land use and how the land is managed are made.

Our teams are experienced in environmental land management work, including carbon audits, natural capital accounting, peatland restoration, woodland planting and management, Biodiversity Net Gain and nutrient neutrality.
